

DIETITIANS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Dietitians who attended the meeting of the American Dietetic Association held at the MacCluer hotel, October 14 to 20 are as follows: top row, reading from left to right: Georgette D. White, chief dietitian, Freedmen's hospital; Nell C. Frazier, assistant dietitian, Veterans' hospital, Tuskegee, Ala.; Ada D. Vinson, dietitian, Hubbard hospital, Nashville, Tenn.; Pauline Buford, dietitian, Mercy hospital, Philadelphia, Pa.; Motto Sims, instructor in home economics, Tuskegee institute. Bottom row, reading left to right: Helen Lucas, dietitian in adult education, Washington, D.C.; Lucille Wamack, assistant dietitian, Veterans' hospital, Tuskegee, Ala.; Captoria Gwyn, dietitian, General hospital No. 2, Kansas City, Mo.; Delma F. Thompson, assistant dietitian, Freedmen's hospital; Curtis L. Horne, assistant dietitian, Freedmen's hospital; Thelma Bolling, dietitian, Flint Goodrich hospital, New Orleans, La.

National Organizations - 1934

National Alliance of Postal Employees.

WILHOIT QUILTS POSTAL ALLIANCE

States He Will Seek Reinstatement in Post Office Service

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—(ANP)—Roy O. Wilhoit, president of the National Alliance of Postal Employees, who was separated from the Railway Mail Service last December after charges involving moral turpitude had been filed with the post-office department, tendered his resignation as president of the Alliance last Friday, effective March 1.

In a letter addressed to Jerry O. Gilliam, vice-president of the organization, Mr. Wilhoit wrote:

"In view of the developing schism in the Executive Committee and the consequent adverse effect upon the morale of the membership, caused by activities for and against me during my 'Service Difficulties,' and altho' I have been assured by hundreds of members that I have their confidence, support and belief that my difficulties can be laid at the door of some of my so-called 'comrades,' I believe the best interests of the organization will be served by relinquishing my position as an officer."

On the same day Mr. Wilhoit made public a letter addressed to a Chicago newspaper which published letters from Mrs. Angie Young, the "woman in the case," in which the charges were made that no interest had been served by publishing the "purported" letters and revealing phases of Mrs. Young's life which were lurid in the extreme. Mr. Wilhoit announced that he was planning to seek reinstatement into the service.

New Vice President Of Postal Alliance

L. F. FORD

WASHINGTON, —(ANP) Jerry O. Gilliam, of Norfolk, Va., was elected last Thursday to presidency of the National Alliance of Postal Employees. Gilliam succeeds Roy O. Wilhoit, who recently resigned. Gilliam was formerly vice-president of the organization. L. F. Ford of St. Louis was made vice president.

Resolutions were passed at the meeting favoring restoration of basic salary levels and automatic pay increase, and opposing reclassification of terminal railway post offices.

Salaries of officers of the Alliance were reduced as an economy measure. The size of the official publication was reduced and group insurance was reinstituted.

Nashville, Tenn. Banner
September 4, 1934

Gupton Speaks Before Negro Postal Employees

Postmaster William Gupton told members of the National Alliance of Postal Employees, Negro organization, at a district meeting at Morris Memorial Chapel Tuesday that he favored organization among postal employees.

The postmaster stressed unselfishness and efficiency as very essential qualifications for the postal service.

J. M. Clark, president of the local branch, called the meeting to order at 10 a. m. Besides Postmaster Gupton, speakers were: John P. Waldman, chief clerk of the railway mail service; W. E. Wright, assistant chief clerk; and Elmo Chilton, president of the fourth division of the Railway Mail Association.

H. H. Ateman of Memphis, district president of the organization, also spoke.

BUILDERS FORM ASSOCIATION TO IMPROVE STATUS

Indiana

Negro technicians and artisans organized Friday at the Y.M.C.A. on a temporary basis as a branch of the National Builders Association. Howard D. Woodson, president, stated that charter memberships would be open to persons who elect to join during the month of January. 1-18-34

Organized 15 years ago at Hampton Institute, the National Building Association secures employment for and assists in educating its members on a guild basis. Washington

It has completed a survey of colored men in building trades in Washington, especially with respect to technicians and contractors forced into laboring jobs under the CWA and CWS and will aim to supply competent technicians for such housing programs as may be devised in the District.

Woodson President

Mr. Woodson, the president, is a structural engineer in the Treasury Department. Other officers include: R. C. Archer, architect, vice-president; George W. Miles, contractor, secretary; William Woodson, plastering contractor, assistant secretary; Thomas Adell, bricklayer, treasurer; the Rev. E. D. Swinson, contractor and builder, chaplain, and C. W. S. Graves, sergeant-at-arms.

Howard Mackey, professor of architecture at Howard University, has been named chairman of a committee on projects and promotion; Thomas P. Curry, employment; J. A. Green, codes; C. W. S. Graves, grievances, and Lewis Johnson, membership. Meetings are held each Friday evening at the Twelfth Street branch of the Y.M.C.A.

NEWS CLIPPINGS FILE
TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE ARCHIVES

National Organizations - 1934

CONGRESS FOR GROUP SOUGHT BY
N. Y. ATTORNEY
Journal and Guide
Yearly Conference
Of Negro Leaders
In Plan

Special to Journal and Guide
NEW YORK, N. Y.—A yearly congress of Negro leaders elected by the people in every state to meet for the study of sundry Negro problems has been proposed as a substitute for the problem of leadership by any single individual. Author of the plan is Harrison S. Jackson, local attorney, and chairman of the executive board of St. James Presbyterian Church, and member of several fraternal organizations.

Mr. Jackson hopes for cooperation in founding the N. C. L. C. P.—The National Collective Leadership of the Colored People. Mr. Jackson's proposed collective leadership group would have its nucleus in state, city and town organizations. Towns would elect representatives from the various lodges, societies, churches and fraternal organizations to attend a city convention.

Leaders would be elected at the city convention and sent to a state conference which, in turn, would elect its state delegates to send to a national conference once a year, beginning in August 1935.

The congress, under Mr. Jackson's plan, would justify its existence by acting upon measures relating to economics, politics, social and religious matters, and in serving as the voice of a united Negro nation either for purposes of protest or appeal.

Mr. Jackson, who has written scores of leaders asking cooperation in his plan, says that, as to financing and other usual incidentals that accompany such an organization, he prefers to hold such matters in abeyance until he can get a cross section of informed opinions. "Suffice it to say the workability of it is practicable," he says.

"I believe collective leadership will effectively serve as a right guide to set the pace and direction for the vast regimentation of the colored people of the United States for a common purpose and a common good.

The net result of this movement is going to mean more employment thereby increasing the wealth of the race; a complete organization of our economic system; stability of political endeavors; a revamping of our social trend, and an efficacy for our common good."

National Collective Leadership by the Colored People

National Organization - 1934

LANKFORD NAMED Scientific Group's
CODE ADVISOR OF Roster Welcomed
TECHNICAL GROUP by Dayton Mayor
Washington
Howard University Representative
Presented at Meeting by
L. K. Downing

DAYTON, Ohio—The election of officials was the closing gesture of the sixth annual session of the National Technical Association, held at Linden Center, this city during the past three days.

Thirty delegates representing architects, engineers and chemists of five local branches located in Chicago, Detroit, Dayton, St. Louis and Washington, D.C. together with a few non-delegate members and a large group of visitors listened to an address of welcome from Mayor Charles W. Brennan of Dayton, who frankly acknowledged surprise when informed that the gathering represented more than three hundred professionally trained men in the field of science.

The following officers were elected: James A. Parsons, Jr., Dayton, Ohio, president; Charles S. Duke, Chicago, Ill., vice-president; John A. Lankford, Washington, eastern vice president; and the organization's representative at the Capital on code matters; western vice president, Paul E. Johnson, Chicago; central vice president, Elmer J. Cheeks, Cleveland; secretary, J. C. Evans, Institute, W. Va.; treasurer, Cornelius L. Henderson, Detroit.

The Ohio branch hosts to the body included J. A. Dunn, E. Ryder, E. P. Taylor, E. L. Nickerson, John L. Thomas, W. L. Lansdowne and Fred Grigsby.

Howard University was represented by the Dean of the School of Engineering and Architecture, L. K. Downing.

Technical Men To Courier Meet In Dayton
8-18-34

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—(ANP)—The National Technical Association will hold its sixth annual convention in Dayton, Ohio, beginning August 31.

DAYTON, Ohio.—Thirty delegates and many visitors representing architects, engineers and chemists of five large cities listened to an address of welcome delivered by Mayor Charles W. Brennan at the convention of the National Technical Association, recently.

Technical presentations were made by Howard Egbert, of the Dayton Power and Light Company; Cornelius H. Henderson, a Detroit structural engineer; and L. G. McDougal, Chicago architect.

Other speeches were given by Robert H. Harboon, James A. Jackson, and John A. Lankford.

The officers were: James A. Parsons, Dayton, president; Charles S. Duke, Chicago, vice-president; John A. Lankford, Washington, eastern vice-president; Paul E. Johnson, Chicago, western vice-president; John A. Lankford, Cleveland, central vice-president; J. C. Evans, Institute, W. Va., secretary; and Cornelius L. Henderson, Detroit, treasurer.

The Ohio hosts to the body were J. A. Dunn, E. Ryder, E. P. Taylor, E. L. Nickerson, Frederick Grigsby, John L. Thomas, and W. L. Lansdowne.

Howard University was represented by L. K. Downing, dean of the school of engineering and architecture.

National Technical Association

Organization Society Reelects All Officers; To Meet In Franklin Next Year; 10 More on Board

By MILTON L. RANDOLPH

ASHLAND, Va.— The twenty-second annual meeting of the Negro Organization Society closed an impressive two-day session with a public meeting in the chapel of the Randolph-Macon College here Friday night with James N. Hill, man, president of Emory and Henry College, delivering the main address.

During the course of this address, Dr. Hillman stated that public sentiment must be built up to such an extent that all citizens will get justice before the law regardless of color of skin.

Featured on the musical part of the program were the Sabbath Glee Club of Richmond, directed by Joseph Matthews, and the Hampton Institute Quartet.

The society and visitors meeting for the first time at a white college, was extended a cordial welcome by Dr. R. E. Blackwell, president, Randolph-Macon and president, State Interracial Commission. The response was made by Dr. J. M. Gandy, president, Virginia State College.

Greetings Extended
Greetings were also extended by L. R. Reynolds, director, Virginia Commission on Interracial Cooperation. Following Dr. Gandy's response, William M. Cooper, Hampton Institute, read a letter sent by the Negro Organization Society to Dr. Blackwell expressing the organization's appreciation for the fine spirit of cooperation he had shown in this meeting and all other meetings for racial cooperation and uplift.

Dr. Eugene Kinckle Jones, advisor on Negro affairs, Department of Commerce, Washington, outlined to the assembly what he considered vital opportunities for the future progress of the Negro due to greater state and Federal participation in the educational set up for the entire population. Dr. Jones was presented by Mr. Cooper.

County Program Noted
Wednesday evening marked the opening of the society's session with the county participation program presented at Shiloh Baptist Church. Prof. W. O. Bowley, principal, Hanover County Training School presided. The main address was delivered by W. B. Layton.

superintendent, Virginia Manual Labor School. He discussed the history of the Negro Organization Society and the future of the Negro through organized effort.

Among the speakers appearing at this session were Mrs. Virginia Roane, Alexander Hewlett, Miss Mae Mathews, Miss Adele Dabney, Rev. W. N. Hunter and R. H. Tinsley. Special music was furnished by Union Church Choir, and the Hanover Training School Octette.

Three Session Thursday
Three sessions were held Thursday. "Better Homes," occupying the morning hours, "Better Health," the afternoon and a welcome session to the organization by local officials and organizations filled in evening meet.

Miss L. A. Jenkins, presided over the Better Homes session. Demonstrations on preparing and serving the school lunch were made by home demonstration agent assisted by 4-H Club and Home Demonstration Club members.

Courtney S. Welton, state reconditioning supervisor of the Home Owners Loan Corporation stressed the importance of using the HOLC if such assistance was really needed. Mr. Welton stated that the loans were open to all citizens and appealed to applicants not to grow weary of recovery government necessary formality.

Dr. Morgan E. Norris, presided during the afternoon meeting. Speakers at this session were Dr. W. E. Reid and Miss Mary I. Martin. Demonstrations on The Five Point Pupils in Schol Health Program was made by Miss Frederica Beale. Remarks were made by Dr. B. B. Bagby, Dr. Fred Brown, and H. Laurie Smith.

Among the speakers were Mayor B. Morgan Sheppard, Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Supt. J. Walton Hall, Dr. Frank L. Day, Rev. E. E. Moore, Mrs. Ethel Hicks and Miss Hattie Johnson.

Field Secretary Reports
Response to the welcome addresses was made by J. A. Oliver, field secretary, Negro Organization Society which was followed with his annual report. Mr. Oliver used graphic charts to illustrate the territory covered in the various activities of the Organization Society in Virginia. The charts revealed that there are four full time nurses and nine FERA nurses working in thirteen counties through the influence of the society and that the activities of the Organization Society cover 76 counties and that during the year 1933-34 the secretary had visited organizations and meetings in 51 counties with a total of 299 visits for the year.

Dr. Robert P. Daniel, Virginia Union University, presented many major problems of the Negro in the field of education, during the course of his address. He made a vivid analysis of the provision for white and Negro education in the state.

Other speakers on his program were Dr. Roscoe C. Brown, Mrs. Janie Porter Barrett and Atty. T. C. Walker.

Bust of Mme. Walker Presented
Probably one of the most impressive high lights of Thursday's session was the presentation to the society of a bust of Mrs. Maggie L. Walker, made by J. S. Collins. Mrs. Walker, a charter member of the society, has given many years of faithful service to the development and progress of its work.

Music was furnished by Shiloh Church Choir and Miss Alfreda Jackson.

Franklin 1935 Host
An invitation extended the Society by the Mayor of Franklin and the school officials of Southampton County was accepted and the 1935 convention will be held in Franklin November 7 and 8, 1935.

All officers were reelected and new members elected to the Executive Board were Mrs. Estelle Wingo, Amelia County; Miss Virginia Randolph, Henrico County; Miss Marian Gore, Elizabeth City County; Charles Clark, West Point; Rev. H. R. Young, Kilmarnock; Prof. A. G. Richardson, South Hill; Mrs. Maud W. Winston, Franklin; Mrs. Mary F. Watkins, Toano; Mrs. Wansa B. Webb, Norfolk; and Lawyer James T. Carter, Richmond.

Dr. Arthur D. Wright, president, Jeanes-Slater Fund was at the Executive Board meeting and presented plans for possible aid in the future of the society's program

The Pacific Gets Violent

Black Dispatch
A short while ago in these columns we advised our readers in Oklahoma to pay no attention to organizers out in the rural section collecting money for what is called "The Pacific Movement." The young men traveling over the state presenting this new "cure all" for race disabilities were glib of tongue and were actually making some headway until the Black Dispatch issued its warning.

Last week, in St. Louis, Walter Peeples, head of the movement, was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense. Turn to page one and read a news story covering this arrest. As we said in a previous article, Negroes in Oklahoma have had enough of Chief Sams and "Modern Moses" who promise to lead them across the Red Sea. Just now the Pacific Movement does not appear to be very pacific.

Head Of Pacific Movement Seized

Black Dispatch
Is Charged With Obtaining Money By False Pretense

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Apr. 26. Walter Peeples, 59 years old, 3031 Lawton avenue, national president of the Pacific Movement of the Eastern World, Inc., and David Erwin, 33, 3818 Finney avenue, were arrested in the Municipal Court Building Monday about 12:30 p. m. upon the request of Prosecuting Attorney Harry Rosecan. The charge preferred against them was "obtaining money by false pretense."

Atty. Rosecan said that William Redmond of 4551 North Market street, and William Henderson, 2410 North Taylor avenue, and Ollin Rice, 2529 Belle Glade avenue, had complained of paying $2.50 each to Peeples for membership in the Pacific Movement of the Eastern World.

Asst. Prosecuting Atty. Hough stated that his office had investigated and found no record of a charter at the office of the Secretary of State.